Psalms 119:66 Teach me good judgment and knowledge: for I have believed thy commandments.

As a followup from our last letter, I'm happy to report that my surgery went well. They were able to remove the gland with the stones without any complications. My recovery, however, didn't go quite as smoothly. I ended up in the hospital a week later with blood clots in my lungs. That was quickly taken care of though and I'm told I should have no more problems.

Paige has now graduated from high school but her college plans have changed a bit. She has a strong desire to attend Bible college and God is putting everything in place for that to happen. She will be starting classes in the middle of August. We're thrilled that she has chosen this path and we can't wait to see what God has planned for her life.

We're also excited that a couple more new churches are taking us on for support. We hope the slight revival of our economy will help ignite a great revival in many churches so that we and others can get to our fields quickly.

In the next couple of weeks we will have the necessary hardware and software on our computer to continue our language classes on our own. This will allow much more time for actual studying as well as the convenience of being able to work on the language at any time as we continue our travels and deputation.

THANK YOU ALL FOR YOUR CONTINUED
PRAYER AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT!
