Missionaries to the Hispanics of America

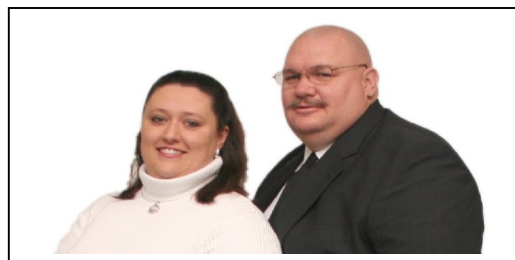

May 1, 2008

We'd like to thank everyone for their prayerful support last week following the home-going of Leigh's dad. For those we weren't able to reach, her dad passed away suddenly on Wednesday afternoon, April 23rd. His health had diminished the last couple of years but this still came much sooner than we had expected. We praise God that her dad was saved and know that we'll see him again.

God continues to bless this year as several churches have taken us on for monthly support. We've also been in many others who have said that they hope to add us on at some point in the near future. It certainly is a nice surprise when our monthly statement comes in and a name we weren't expecting is now on the list. We know that God has all of this worked out and He has the perfect time frame planned for us.

We still hope to begin language school in 2009. We are also planning to start some Spanish classes through a local college later this month. Obviously, we'd love to go to language school with enough of a head start that we don't need the full year that is usually necessary. Also, the sooner we begin to really learn the language, the more we can begin to do with Hispanics that we come into contact with now.

Please continue to pray for us as we travel from church to church. Since beginning deputation, we have visited 169 different churches and driven 35,540 miles!
